

TwentyOne Language Identification Benefits

Language identificationKnow the languages of your documents!

As the name says, Language Identification helps you to identify the language of your documents. If your information service is multi-lingual, it is an indispensable instrument.

Accurate identificationPrevent presenting the wrong documents at your users!

Language Identification is trained to recognize a large number of languages. As the program processes the whole text, it can discover more languages in one document.

Easy expansionAdd unknown languages as necessary!

If recognition of a new, non-supported language is required, this can easily be added by training the program with a set of documents in this language.

For more information at Language Identification see our website.